INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors
Pat's Place Child Advocacy Center, Inc.
Charlotte, North Carolina

We have audited the accompanying statements of Pat's Place Child Advocacy Center, Inc. (the "Center"), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2015, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Center as of June 30, 2015, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited Pat's Place Child Advocacy Center, Inc.'s 2014 financial statements, and our report dated October 20, 2014, expressed an unmodified opinion on those audited financial statements. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended June 30, 2014, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated October 9, 2015, on our consideration of Pat's Place Child Advocacy Center, Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Pat's Place Child Advocacy Center Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

PAT'S PLACE CHILD ADVOCACY CENTER, INC.

June 30, 2015

NOTE A – SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization Purpose: Pat's Place Child Advocacy Center, Inc. (The "Center") is a not-for-profit organization incorporated on August 20, 2004. The Center focuses the resources of public and private agencies in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina to achieve the best comprehensive outcome for abused children.

Financial Statement Presentation: The financial statements of the Center are prepared on the accrual basis. The significant accounting policies followed are described below to enhance the usefulness of the financial statements to the reader.

Financial statement presentation conforms to the requirements of the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification ("FASB Codification"). Under the FASB Codification, the Center is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets and permanently restricted net assets.

- (a) Unrestricted Net Assets are from unrestricted contributions and income and are available for use as designated by the Board of Directors, including current operating expenses.
- (b) Temporarily Restricted Net Assets are from contributions whose use is limited by donor imposed stipulations which are satisfied by actions of the Center or passage of time.
- (c) Permanently Restricted Net Assets are from contributions whose use is limited by donor-imposed stipulations that neither expire by passage of time nor can be satisfied or removed by actions of the Center.

Recognition of Support, Revenues, and Capital Additions: In accordance with FASB Codification, contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted or permanently restricted support depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. Donor-restricted support is reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets. Temporarily restricted contributions recognized and utilized in the same accounting period are classified as unrestricted. Conditional contributions received are recognized as support when the conditions on which they depend have substantially been met.

Grants and Purchased Services: Grants are recognized as a receivable and support when promised. Contracts for purchased services and cost-reimbursement arrangements are recognized as a receivable and support when the services have been performed or the reimbursable costs have been incurred. The contract with Mecklenburg County is accounted for as a “cost-reimbursement” arrangement as management believes the agreement has more cost reimbursement attributes than grant attributes.

Contributions Receivable: Unconditional contributions receivable are recognized as support in the period received and as assets, decreases in liabilities, or as expenses, depending on the form of the benefits received. Conditional promises receivable are recognized when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions receivable deemed to be unrealizable are reserved and/or written off, as appropriate.

Contributions receivable arising from unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year of the financial statement date are measured at fair value. The fair value of contributions arising from unconditional promises to give one year or more after the financial statement date, is determined based on present value, (the time value of money represented by a risk-free rate of interest) of the estimated future cash flows, using a risk-free rate of return.

Equipment and Improvements: Additions are recorded at cost, if purchased, and estimated fair value at the time of donation, if received as a gift. Minor renewals and replacements are expensed. When equipment and improvements are retired, their costs and related allowances for depreciation are removed from the accounts. Any gain or loss is recognized in the statement of activity at that time.

Depreciation is computed by the straight-line method over the estimated economic lives for the respective assets held which range as follows:

Computer software	3 years
Furniture and fixtures	5-10 years
Leasehold improvements	6 years

Donated Materials and Services: Donated materials and equipment, when significant, are reflected as contributions in the financial statements at estimated fair value at date of receipt. Donated services, when significant and measurable as to value, are reflected as contributions in the financial statements when provided.

Volunteers, including officers and directors of the Center, donate their time in program and administrative services and fund raising. However, no amounts have been reflected in the financial statements for these services they do not meet the criteria for recognition under FASB Codification.

Accrued Compensated Absences: The Center's accrual for compensated absences includes provision for the nonvesting right to receive holiday, vacation, and sick day benefits.

Functionalization of Expenses: Expenses not associated with a specific classification are allocated among the various classifications based upon the estimated time spent by the professional staff of the Center and other quantifiable factors. Certain jointly incurred costs are allocated to the various functional classifications based on management's estimate of how such costs were utilized.

Use of Estimates in Financial Statements: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the management to make reasonable estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of support, revenues, and other items, and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

License to Solicit: The Center has a license, which must be renewed annually, to solicit charitable contributions in North Carolina from the North Carolina Department of Secretary of State.

Cash Equivalents: Funds invested on a daily basis in highly liquid instruments having immediate availability are considered cash equivalents for purposes of the statement of cash flows, which is presented on the indirect method.

Fund-raising: The Center hosts an annual Barbeque and Bluejeans event as its primary fund-raising activity. Fund-raising support received in advance represents a time-restricted contribution related to the September 2015 event. Indirect costs are allocated to fund-raising expenses using personnel and square footage ratios.

Fair Value Measurements: Generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. Fair value, as defined under GAAP, is an exit price, representing the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at measurement date. The Center utilizes market data or assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. GAAP establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value. These tiers include: Level 1, defined as observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets; Level 2, defined as inputs other than quoted prices in active markets that are either directly or indirectly observable; and Level 3, defined as unobservable inputs about which little or no market data exists, therefore requiring an entity to develop its own assumptions (see Note K).

NOTE B – INCOME TAXES

The Center is a North Carolina not-for-profit corporation and is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is not classified as a private foundation. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes is included in the financial statements.

NOTE J – PERMANENTLY RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

The Center has no permanently restricted net assets.

NOTE K – FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL MEASUREMENTS

FASB Codification defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value as generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”), and expands financial statement disclosures about fair value measurements for financial assets and liabilities.

Financial assets are cash, evidence of an ownership interest in an entity, or a contract that conveys to one entity a right (1) to receive cash or another financial instrument from a second entity or (2) to exchange other financial instruments on potentially favorable terms with the second entity.

Financial liabilities are contracts that impose on one entity an obligation (1) to deliver cash or another financial instrument to a second entity or (2) to exchange other financial instruments on potentially unfavorable terms with the second entity.

NOTE K - FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL MEASUREMENTS - CONTINUED

The following table sets forth by level within the fair value hierarchy the Center’s financial assets and liabilities accounted for at fair value on a recurring basis. Assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Organization’s assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement requires judgment, and may affect the valuation of fair value assets and liabilities and their placement within the fair value hierarchy levels.

FINANCIAL ASSETS AND LIABILITIES:

Recurring Basis:

Description	June 30, 2015	Fair Value Measurements Using			Total Gains/ (Losses)
